

WSH (DESIGN FOR SAFETY) REGULATION COURSE (DFSR)

LEGAL REQUIREMENT

The Workplace Safety and Health (Design for Safety) Regulations came into force in 1 Aug 2016. The Regulations require stakeholders such as Developers, Designers and Contractors to work together to address risk at source and plan for safe work in regard to a building or structure as a workplace. By working together, they can identify and eliminate or reduce all foreseeable design risks to any person's safety or health.

FOR WHOM

The course would be appropriate for Developers, Designers and Contractors who address risk at source and plan for safe work in regard to a building or structure as a workplace.
